Preface: The Marriage

Two bodies of work, one formula. In Crowley's Heart of the Master, four living creatures stand around the Master's throne — and each speaks one of four words: Love, Life, Liberty, Light. In the essays of IAO131, the same four words return as a formula: the Law of Life, Light, Love, and Liberty, promulgated, established, and confessed. This edition presents the IAO131 side of the marriage: the essays summarized faithfully, quoted briefly for study, and linked whole.

Copyright honesty: IAO131's essays are his. They are summarized here in our own words with brief quotations for study; the full texts live at iao131.com and are linked, never reproduced. Read! Judge! Keep silence — his own colophon.

The four essays: (1) the “strength” manifesto — the four L's as the AIM; (2) “Why should we contribute to the greater community?” — the four L's as the LAW to promulgate; (3) the Jung / Gnostic Mass essay — the four L's as the CHURCH; (4) “Thelemic Eightfold Path pt.2” — the four L's at their SOURCE, Crowley's own formula.

Part I — The Essays

1. “Strength” — a manifesto

Source: iao131.com/tag/strength/ — a manifesto for every man and every woman who recognizes their own right to Divine Kingship.

Summary: the aim is the complete establishment of the Kingdom of Ra-Hoor-Khuit on earth — the permeating of all facets of life with the Word of Thelema. The proper spirit is overflowing joy and strength (never regret, malice, or sorrow); obstacles are chances to grow. Relations with the world: immerse in its fecundity, do not retreat — jobs, duties, children, laughter, all to the glory of Ra-Hoor-Khuit. Material things are not shunned. The daily regimen: a strong body and a concentrated mind; “exceed! exceed!” With fellow soldiers: each a pyramid, sufficient unto themselves — yet stars gather into galaxies, whose gravity is inconceivable.

> “the establishment of Life, Liberty, Love, and Light in the hearts of all men.” — IAO131, “strength”

Teaching: here the four L's are the AIM — the telos of the manifesto, what the whole engine is for.

2. “Why should we contribute to the greater community?”

Source: iao131.com/tag/thelemites/ — the full essay, fetched 2026-10-18.

Summary: prologue — the alpha and omega is “Do what thou wilt”; the essay argues, not commands. A maturing view of True Will: from “my needs trump all” to the star in the company of stars. The argument: communities band together to preserve and promulgate the Law — and the image is Crowley's well in the desert sheltered by four great palms (Liber CXXIV): the community nourishes all around it and is fortified thereby. Basic needs first — Crowley to Frieda Harris: food, shelter, love, freedom — Maslow's hierarchy four decades early. From “Duty”: relieve distress not from pity but to make manifest the perfection of the Universe. Objections answered: too Christian, too humanitarian, focus on our own.

> “we band together into communities in order to preserve and promulgate the Law of Life, Light, Love, and Liberty.” — IAO131

Teaching: here the four L's are the LAW — what is promulgated outward, the well with four palms.

3. The Jung essay — the Gnostic Mass Creed

Source: iao131.com/tag/carl-jung/ — on the congregation as Final Heh of Tetragrammaton.

Summary: the People are the Final Heh — humanity, the Earth, the bride of Baphomet

(Vav) as the Church is the bride of Christ. The Creed confesses “one Gnostic and Catholic Church of Light, Life, Love and Liberty, the Word of whose Law is ΘΕΛΗΜΑ.” The brethren are the company of heaven; each individual a source of Light and Life on earth as the stars are in heaven (Matthew 5:14: “Ye are the light of the world”).

> “one Gnostic and Catholic Church of Light, Life, Love and Liberty” — Gnostic Mass Creed, via IAO131

Teaching: here the four L's are the CHURCH — the collective body, the company of heaven.

4. “Thelemic Eightfold Path pt.2 — Right intention”

Source: iao131.livejournal.com/5294.html — quoting Liber DCCCXXXVII.

Summary: on samma sankappa — right resolve, the will to change; renunciation, freedom from ill will, harmlessness. AL II:70-72 (“exceed! exceed!”). The essay quotes Crowley's Law of Liberty at length, including the formula itself.

> “The Law of your being becomes Light, Life, Love and Liberty.” — Liber DCCCXXXVII, via IAO131

Teaching: here the four L's stand at their SOURCE — Crowley's own 1916 formula, Class E.

Part II — Teaching the Four L's

LIGHT

First in the Creed's order. "Ye are the light of the world" (Matthew 5:14) — the Jung essay's warrant for each individual as source. In the marriage: the Eagle's word, the Rapture of Light — woe transmuted to rapture.

LIFE

"Remember all ye that existence is pure joy" (AL II:9, quoted in "strength"). The well of Life for those who struggle to subsist (greater community). In the marriage: the Cow's word, the Nourishment of Life — work transmuted to nourishment.

LOVE

"Love is the law, love under will" (AL I:57). ἀγάπη = 93 = θέλημα (attested; cf. the Ma'at Teacher's Edition). In the marriage: the Lion's word, the Energy of Love — wrath transmuted to energy.

LIBERTY

"There is no law beyond Do what thou wilt" (AL III:60). The Law of Liberty itself (Liber DCCCXXXVII, 1916, Class E). In the marriage: the Babe's word, the Innocence of Liberty — the way transmuted to innocence.

On the orders

The set is stable; the order is fluid — Light, Life, Love, Liberty (Creed, Law of Liberty); Life, Liberty, Love, Light (strength); Life, Light, Love, Liberty (greater community). Teach the set, not the sequence: four L's, one Law.

Part III — The Marriage

The correspondence, read straight off Crowley's own words in the Vision. Each creature speaks its L; each L answers in the essays. Observed, not invented.

Creature (Heart of the Ma	Word of the Master	The L	IAO131 witness
Lion	“The Wrath of the Master is the Energy of Love.”	LOVE	“strength”: Love in the hearts of all men
Cow	“The Work of the Master is the Nourishment of Life.”	LIFE	“greater community”: the well of Life
Babe	“The Way of the Master is the Innocence of Liberty.”	LIBERTY	“strength”: liberty of the individual
Eagle	“The Woe of the Master is the Rapture of Light.”	LIGHT	Jung essay: company of heaven, sources of Light & Life

The fifth, observed: above the four whirls a wheel of many-coloured radiance — its utterance is of Wisdom and the Justice of Time, harmonizing all deeds in one. Four L's; one Justice. The teacher notes the Ma'at-resonance and stops there: observed, not decreed.

What is genuine: the words match exactly — Love, Life, Liberty, Light in both corpora. What is inferred: that Crowley's 1925 vision and the modern essays draw one formula. Flagged as the compiler's reading, offered for the author's red pen.

Findings: LOVE=54, LIFE=32, LIGHT=56, LIBERTY=91; the four sum to 233. The creatures: LION=50, COW=41, BABE=10, EAGLE=30. WISDOM=83 — verified: not a bridge. It coincides with FAFO=83, but FAFO's 83 rides the author's own cipher (F→Vav, O→Ayin — free choices; F→פ alone makes it 231), so the bank is not honest, and no honest-bank pairing yields 83=83 anywhere. What stands without the numbers is the semantic correspondence: wisdom is acquired through trial and error. The author's dictum:

> “Experience is the only real pathway to wisdom.” — Johnathan, 2026-10-18

Colophon

This Teacher's Edition was built 2026-10-18: the four IAO131 essays summarized, quoted briefly for study, and linked whole; the marriage with Heart of the Master stated as observed correspondence. Every quotation was checked against its source; every number recomputed. Brief quotations are given for study under fair use; the full texts are linked, never reproduced.

Standing: findings, never doctrine. The correspondences stated here are read off the authors' own words; what is inferred beyond them is flagged as inferred. The red pen rules.

Live, Love, and let Love, Live.
